In B.C. Hospital Dispute

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP) — The British Columbia Mediation Commission Commission has extended the term of mediator Ed Sims for the fourth time in a contract dispute between 137 operating engineers and 28 B.C. hospitals, a union spokesman said Wednesday.

Ed Callan of the International Union of Operating Engineers said the union gave 72-hour strike notice last Thursday, but now will not be able to take strike action until Mr. Sims' extended term expires Nov. 1.

The union agreed last month to accept a preliminary wage offer by the B.C. Hospital Association and take the major question of parity with other hospital tradesmen to binding arbitration.

The BCHA, however, wanted the whole issue, including wage scales, brought before the mediation commission.

Meanwhile, staff shortages in the Northern Interior Health Unit show no sign of improving in the near future.

Health Minister Ralph Lofmark told a Social Credit meeting here Tuesday that there would be no major changes for the time being in hiring policies.

N.S. Vote
Unsure

HALIFAX (CP) — Whether the Liberals or the Progressive Conservatives won Tuesday's Nova Scotia election may not be known until official returns and ballot counts are filed.

Unofficially, the Liberals won 23 seats, the Conservatives 21 and the NDP two in the 46-seat legislature in election night tabulations. Standings in the last house: PCs 41, Liberals five.

The outcome of possible recounts in four ridings where the voting was close could determine which party forms the next government.

Premier G. I. Smith had no comment on his plans Wednesday but he did say there will be a statement today or Friday. The PC caucus was to meet today.

NDP Leader Jeremy Akerman said Wednesday he will support the party which has the majority of seats when the official count is known. However, his continued support would depend on the party's legislative program, and he would "play it by ear."

Liberal Leader Gerald Regan was unavailable for comment Wednesday.

Narrow margins raise the possibility of recounts in four ridings.

OTTAWA (CP) — The number unemployed in Canada declined in September by a smaller-than-usual margin of 50,000 to 388,000.

With the regular September shrinkage of the work force by 336,000 to 8,384,000—the percentage of the labor force unemployed fell to 4.7 from 5.1 per cent in August, said a joint report today from the manpower department and Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

For those participating in the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce goodwill cavalcade Saturday, the 230-mile, five-hour jaunt into the scenic hinterlands of Osoyoos and Rock Creek will offer something more than a mere trip into unfamiliar visual vistas. The excursion has been planned with diversification and entertainment in mind by local chamber officials, including a trip to Fairview, west of Oliver. Anyone interested in making the trip is asked to contact the local chamber office to allow for catering and accommodation planning.

Chamber Plans Scenic Travel

The Kelowna Chamber of Commerce will hit the trail into the scenic "hinterlands" of Rock Creek and Osoyoos in a special goodwill tour Saturday. The tour, which will leave from the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce at 8:30 a.m., will include a stop at the Kettle Valley Regional Park, a picnic at the Rock Creek Campground, and a visit to the Osoyoos Dam. The tour will return to Kelowna at 11:30 a.m.

Mill Street Parking Area Again Sought By 'Citizens'

City council wound-up juggling parking space possibilities of the Kelowna Yacht Club Tuesday in an effort to compensate for a denied request by the local senior citizens association for continuation of the same parking privileges at its location on Mill Street. The Kelowna Yacht Club had requested the use of the Mill Street parking area for its annual regatta, but the city council had denied the request. The senior citizens association is now asking the city council to allow them to use the same parking area for their annual picnic.

Community Chest Total At $52,000

"I think the campaign is going very well," said local United Appeal campaign chairman Glenn Lawrence Wednesday in reporting current collections of $52,000 toward this year's goal of $60,000. Although the sum represents an $11,000 gap against realization of the 1970 Community Chest and Red Cross United Appeal target, many donation sources are still to be heard from. Still untapped are a large part of the payroll deduction campaign, as well as some commercial, professional and industrial canvasses. Campaign officials are still hopeful of a healthy return from a residential canvass, to be handled by some of the 19 member agencies participating in the drive this year and which directly benefit from United Appeal funds. The combined city Commu-

Not Much Farm Labor Required In Okanagan

The farm labor situation in the Okanagan is adequate, with little demand for help, says J. L. Calhoun, Canada Manpower farm labor co-ordinator. In the Kerecoco area, Winestaps are being harvested with little demand for help. The grape harvest will finish this week, with some Winestaps being picked in the Oliver-Osoyoos area. There is adequate help. Winestaps are finishing in the Penticton area, with little demand for help. Newtons and Winestaps are finishing in the Summerland district, with adequate help available. In the Kelowna-Rutland area, Delicious and late variety apples are nearing completion. Adequate help is available. In the Winfield area, Golden Delicious apples are nearing completion. Adequate help is available.

Lighting For '97 Suggested

The Kelowna and District Safety Council will attempt to have Highway 97 better lighted to Highway 33 to protect pedestrians who may want to cross the highway in safety. At its regular monthly meeting Wednesday, the council was told by chairman Judge D. M. White motorists are unable to see pedestrians crossing the highway at night. In other agenda business, council was told the speed limit within the Rutland fire district was now 30 m.p.h. However, signs telling motorists of the limit are still to be erected.

FIVE CALLS

The Kelowna fire brigade made five calls Wednesday, including one fire call, at 5:40 p.m., behind the provincial court house, to attend a car fire. Four ambulance calls were made, of which three were routine, with the remaining call at 7:55 p.m. to attend an accident in the 1800 block Bernard Ave. No patient was taken to hospital.

OGOPOGO REPORT SETS A RECORD?

Ogopogo may have set a record. Friday's reported sighting of the famed Okanagan Lake creature was the seventh "recorded sighting" this year, the most in recent years. The previous recent record for reported sightings was six, in 1967. There were only two sightings reported last year and three in 1966 and 1968.

About two dozen people have reported seeing the famed lake creature this year, the most recent the two young boys who reported a sighting about 10:15 a.m. Friday, about 20 or 30 feet off the old Aquatic site. The sighting was the first reported since Aug. 21, when at least two people said they saw the Ogopogo near Westbank.

The most widely viewed sighting this year was Feb. 22 when more than a dozen people reported seeing the creature just off the foot of Bernard Avenue, not far from the Ogopogo statue. Some Valley residents have suggested Ogopogo is popping up more regularly because of recent publicity given his "cousin," the Loch Ness Monster in Scotland.

Top Soccer On Saturday

A challenge soccer game between Okanagan Germany and Okanagan Britain is scheduled for Kelowna City Park Oval at 2:30 p.m. Saturday. With players selected from Okanagan teams in Penticton, Vernon and Kelowna, the game should be a crowd-pleaser. Half-time soccer entertainment will be provided by the Kelowna ladies playing the Kelowna old men.

Proceeds from the collection to be taken during the game will be turned over to the Kelowna and district swimming pool fund. Sponsors of the event, the Kelowna German Canadian Soccer Club, are expecting a good turnout.

A. E. Walters To Vancouver

Former Kelowna Bank of Montreal manager A. E. (Bert) Walters recently took another large step upward in the banking world when he was requested to report from his current duties as a district manager on Vancouver Island for a special assignment with the senior vice-president in Vancouver. Mr. Walters, a manager of the Kelowna branch from 1953 to 1958, transferred from here to become a branch manager in Victoria.

SEEN and HEARD

Watching the reaction of motorists can be interesting when a traffic signal fails to work properly. Drivers heading north and south along Ellis Street sat waiting for the light to change about 2:15 p.m. Wednesday, while traffic flowed east and west along Bernard Avenue. The light changed to red for Bernard traffic, but the Ellis light stuck on amber. For several moments nobody moved, then one driver started everything flowing again by showing a great deal of caution while going through the amber light.

The unique-for-Kelowna lace exhibit held at the local museum last June made editorial "big time" in a national publication, reports museum curator Mrs. John Surtees. The magazine carried a "complete write-up" of the novel display, she added happily.

Novel notice seen on a parked car Wednesday: "Warning to car thieves. This car already stolen."

The younger generation these days takes no back seat when it comes to straight business sense. A young female pumpkin vendor seen displaying her wares on Lakeshore Road Tuesday wasn't going to let depressing weather deter from her commercial venture. She was waiting patiently for customers under a large umbrella.

Man observed getting out of his parked vehicle in front of the local RCMP office was overheard Wednesday telling his pet poodle, "come on now, you've got to pay your fine."

Signs outside Rutland proclaim it the Okanagan's fastest growing community. Where is everyone coming from? A check of 53 recent arrivals in Rutland show 28 came from other parts of B.C.; 13 from both Alberta and Saskatchewan; two from each of Manitoba and Ontario; one from each of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia and three from across the border, two from California and one from Washington State.

SPEC TOLD

Pollution... Your Fault

People cause pollution, more than 50 members of the Kelowna branch of the Society for Pollution and Environmental Control (SPEC) were told Wednesday night at the group's regular meeting, at the Women's Institute Hall. D. A. Pritchard, a Westbank realtor and member of the Regional District of Central Okanagan, said: "We know who is the real cause of pollution—people. We know the problem; we are aware of the problem, but we need help in finding the solution, instead of criticism."

Zoning Bylaw Being Shown

Maps and information on the proposed new regional district zoning bylaw can be viewed at various locations in the city and district beginning Oct. 19 and 20 and the Rutland Community Hall from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Unless otherwise specified, data and plans of the bylaw will be available at the following locations from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.: Oct. 21—Winfield Community Hall; Oct. 22—East Kelowna Hall; Oct. 23—Westbank Irrigation District; Oct. 26—Lakeview Heights Women's Institute Hall; Oct. 27—Glenmore Irrigation District; Oct. 28—Peachland municipal offices; Oct. 29—Regional District of Central Okanagan offices, 540 Groves Ave., Kelowna (from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.).

Anyone wishing to make presentations to the regional board is invited to write regional administrator A. T. Harrison, or attend a future public hearing, date of which will be announced later. A member of the staff of the regional planning department will be available during the specified viewing times at the regional office.

Sunny Skies Continuing

Sunny skies should continue over the Central Okanagan Friday as an extensive high pressure ridge continues to dominate the weather pattern. The weatherman is calling for fog patches in the morning. Wednesday's high was 53, the overnight low 25, with no precipitation. Low tonight and high Friday should be 28 and 55.

"We need constructive thought to solve the situation on a long term basis," he said. Speaking as a private citizen, Mr. Pritchard told the audience the Okanagan Basin Water Board, formed by the regional districts of South, Central and North Okanagan, was the first of its kind and was operating under "antiquated laws". "My opinion is the water rights people are working with antiquated laws which should be revamped," he added.

Dr. C. C. Strachan, director of the Summerland research station, another panellist, told the audience soils acted as a filter, removing many wastes through natural processes. "Phosphates and similar chemical compounds which can be easily broken down can be filtered through the soils with little difficulty," he said.

"For such things as lead, arsenic and nitrates, which are insoluble, the soils have a difficult time filtering them." He said effluents containing phosphates are easily decomposed by loam or clay soils, with phosphorous being utilized by the plants, adding forage could be grown on lands used for such purposes as decomposing human wastes.

"It takes a fair amount of land for such purposes, and proper management and a constant supply of water," he added. Referring to agriculture, Dr. Strachan said 30 years ago, agriculturists used more sprays. He said today's growers use much less sprays and in less concentrations than 30 years ago, adding the less frequent spraying was one method of controlling the environment.

Lee Appleton, Don Anderson and Glen Kelly, members of the Ogopogo Chapter of DeMolay, reported to the meeting of a recent conference they attended in Vernon to discuss pollution.

Mr. Kelly told the meeting DeMolay International had instructed its chapters to learn about the problem, and said one method was to attend the SPEC meeting. Advice came from the public for the youths to take an active role by informing their friends and classmates of the situation. One such program the youths might consider involved a clean-up campaign during Halloween, moderator G. P. Stevens suggested. Earlier, Mr. Stevens had a slide presentation showing pollution problems in the Valley.

Most Valley Harvesting Done For Another Season

Harvesting most fruits and vegetables in the Okanagan-Similkameen is almost complete, says the latest British Columbia department of agriculture horticulture newsletter. The apple harvest is general throughout the province, with McIntosh picking almost complete in later districts. Red Delicious and Spartan is in full harvest. Cool weather during the past four weeks has brought good apple color development.

D'Anjou pear harvesting is now complete, with the crop heavy and fruit size large. The fruit was unusually free of Psylla damage and there was little loss from wind or hail.

Anjou Pit, which threatened to develop earlier, was not as severe as in 1969. Harvesting sundry pears, such as Bosc, is winding up. The onion crop movement is good, but prices remain low. Harvest is almost completed with about one-third shipped. Netted gem potatoes are moving slowly with other varieties being cleaned up.

Tomatoes are still being shipped to canneries from some areas which survived the frost. The commercial grape harvest has passed the mid-way point in the South Okanagan with varieties still to be picked including Bath, SIO878, S5898 and S7053. S9549, S9110 and other mid-season varieties are still being harvested in the Kelowna-Winfield-Vernon areas.

Bath, Sheridan, Concord, SIO878 and Diamonds are still to be picked. Harvest of these varieties is not expected to be completed in the Kelowna area until Oct. 18 to 24, weather permitting. Yield losses are occurring in many vineyards.

Loss of weight due to shrinkage is becoming common on vineyards where irrigation water has not been applied since early August. Such vineyards will need water before the crop is harvested to maintain tonnage and prevent drought.

Pool Fund $2,000 Richer With Immaculata's Effort

The Kelowna and District indoor swimming pool fund is more than $2,000 richer today, thanks to the efforts of Immaculata High School students. The fund is $2,000 richer as a result of a recent walkathon by Immaculata students, who marched 20 miles for the fund.

Rev. F. M. Goddard, principal, says to date $1,192 has been collected from the student pledges. During the original walkathon, Sept. 19, Immaculata students were forced to forego the event due to football commitments.

Council Promises Action On Glenmore Area Park

A park that is not a park came one step closer to official status Tuesday at the regular meeting of Kelowna City Council. After hearing letters and personal presentations by Glenmore area residents about a city-owned vacant lot on the corner of Skyline Road and Mountain Avenue, council gave assurances the area would be developed as a park.

Complaints by residents in the public gallery ranged from lack of parks in the Glenmore area, to weed breeding qualities of the lot, which is not seeded with grass. Council seemed sympathetic with the residents' complaints, but stood firm on a decision to develop the park in stages.

The first stage, for which $1,500 was allotted in this year's budget, will be installation of a storm sewer system to replace an open drain culvert which would be a hazard to children playing in the area. Unofficial spokesman for the delegation appearing at council was G. S. Spence, who said he lived in the area for several years but had seen nothing to improve the park.

He added the only park serving the area was Robertson—too far away to be used by the many small children in the neighbourhood. Frank Davis, another Glenmore resident, said the park as it now stands is the "biggest weedpatch in the city." Letters supporting development of the park were received from Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Oke, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Lowe, P. A. Heller, Mr. Spence, and K. Berekfeld.

City administrator D. B. Herbert told council the lot, obtained at the time of the Glenmore boundary extension in 1960, was not actually designated a park.

Short Takes

The events in Montreal these past few days have made one thing crystal clear; kidnapping, plane hijackings and murder should be crimes of capital punishment. After all, if Cross and/or LaPorte should be killed it must be classified as deliberate murder. And the same must apply to hijackers. The only law these people know is that of force and until there are some examples made we may expect more and more of these acts. Any action that deliberately endangers the lives of a group of other people must be classified, and punished, as it deserves. But, then Canada is reaping some of the whirlwind for abolishing capital punishment. This should be restored and enforced, but fast.

Our official traffic critic is embarrassed to confess that some of the women drivers he's been complaining about were actually young men. Probably taking advantage of their long hair.

Canada standard sizes, the uniform size dimensions, took the confusion out of clothes buying for parents of growing children. But housewives have been frustrated by buying garments with washing instructions on a little card, only to have the card missing when washing time came. Now the federal department of consumer affairs—hopefully—is coming to the rescue: it has evolved a scheme to rinse the confusion out of clothes cleaning. It is a new labelling program. Each item will be labelled with a symbol indicating by shape and color whether the garment should be washed hot or cold, dry cleaned, pounded in a stream between rocks, or whatever. It is true that washing and cleaning instructions have become essential to a society that wears clothes made of a bewildering variety of fabrics under an even greater variety of trade names. Smart manufacturers will opt for the labelling scheme, as they did for the standard sizes. Shoppers, particularly those who do the family wash, will love the system. They will, that is, if they can absorb and remember the scores of variations of symbols and colors. The scheme was obviously adopted from the world road signs, but goodness knows what would happen on the highways if each sign had as many variations as does the washing scheme. Housewives had better keep the little book handy!

Our women's pages the other day published a horror story about men's life expectancy declining, about men dying like flies (fat flies), heart attacks, strain, etc. Also good advice to wives: Don't let him become overweight, get him to cut down on cigarette smoking, encourage regular moderate exercise, and lastly, oh yes, try to stop him worrying.

The danger that always lurks around the idea of equality is that sooner or later someone is going to become just a little more equal than somebody else. Spokeswomen for the Women's Liberation Movement hold the idea of equality close to the bra-fettered bosoms and we admire them for it; but still we do worry. There was, for instance, that speech made by one of them at a New Democratic federal council meeting in the east. Breathes there the man with soul so dead that he can deny her basic premise that the tasks of housework and child care tend to be menial, and that it would be just splendid if women, to whom they generally fall, could be set free. Putting the situation in class work context, she said that women are housewives just as blacks are porters, Mexicans are grape workers and Indians are sugarbeet workers. "Class jobs are considered to be inferior jobs and the people performing them are considered to be inferior as a group," she said. She wants the women moved en masse to a better class of work, thereby freeing them from bondage. Fine, just fine. But diapers will still need changing, dishes will still need washing and floors, vacuuming. No matter who takes on such chores, they will inherit the unfortunate classification bestowed by the speaker. Or is she going to do away with babies, dishes, vacuum cleaning and other housework?

Bilingualism is fine, but it can be carried too far. For instance, there is that nice little book I received today. It came from the Quebec government, printed in several colors and on expensive glossy paper—all 98 pages of it. It was a handbook on Quebec and carried, we are sure, much valuable information about the eastern province. But it was all in French; every single word of it. It came from the government's public relations office and had it been in English might have served some useful purpose here. But as it was the cost of the booklet was wasted and instead of developing some good public relations, as was the intent, it created some irritation. Our high school French might puzzle some of it out, but what's the use? So into the wpb goes that expensive booklet.

In its seventh report, the Economic Council of Canada sounds a warning about education and health costs in this country. If these are not controlled, it says, by the end of the century Canadians will be working entirely for these services. Why, we thought we were now!

Important Question

(Calgary Herald)

Ottawa's recent approval of increased natural gas exports also provided for periodic price reviews.

The purpose of the reviews would be to bring the price of natural gas in Canada in line with the price set by demand for the product in the U.S., upward revisions must be anticipated.

If this proves to be the case, it is bound to give rise to an important question. Does it make sense that Canadians should have to compete in price with foreign buyers for a resource which basically belongs to the Canadian people?

How might the interest of Canadians be best protected? A Western Canadian Liberal party official, Mel Hurtig, has suggested a 30 per cent gas export tax. But return from such tax would go directly to the government rather than the people. Price protection for the Canadian consumer of natural gas, on the other hand, could spread the benefits among the whole Canadian population.

IT HAPPENED IN CANADA

MEN'S FASHION LIBERATED

White Shirts A No! No! . . .

TORONTO (CP) — The Canadian male continues a liberation movement of his own—inclining styles.

Men, once satisfied to dress in somewhat subdued attire, are no longer content to let the women steal the whole show in the fashion world.

And why not? It's the male bird that usually has the plumage.

So this fall, more than ever, women are going to have a power struggle on their hands trying to be as fashionably dressed as their mates.

The well-turned-out man-about-town this fall will be clad in bright colors and his styles—like those of the women—will continue to follow the fast-paced trends of the high fashion world.

A Cross-Canada Survey by The Canadian Press shows:

—Ties will be wider and wilder.

—Coats and jackets will be longer.

—Flared or straight cut pants will both be popular.

—But white shirts are a no!

The bright-colored shirts will come on stronger than ever, according to the fashion experts.

LAPELS ARE WIDER

Lapels will also be wider and double-breasted suits will be in. However, single-breasted models are certainly not destined for immediate extinction—not by a long shot.

About 40 per cent of the suits sold will be double-breasted, according to the fashion experts.

As to suit colors, most experts see blue and grey as the colors of choice, with browns, golds and greens losing some of their previous popularity.

But there will continue to be a generous sprinkling of striped and checked patterns and some geometric designs.

There will be a few men's maxi coats on the scene, but the trend is not expected to be a major one.

As to footwear, the boot stylings will continue to be favorites and a good deal of buckles and straps will be evident.

Belts, wide and with conspicuous buckles, are another feature predicted for the fall fashion season.

In Newfoundland, the trends will follow closely those of the mainland provinces with suits cut on European lines accepted as the pace-setters.

The suits will feature patch or false pockets, inverted pleats, tapered waistline and flared pants.

Olive greens and bronze with pinstripes will predominate.

The ties will be wide and ascots and sailor scarves are expected to be in evidence, worn with casual shirts or belted sweaters.

Fashion experts in Nova Scotia say they are not predicting any dramatic changes, but colored shirts have taken over.

The trend to European styling will also be felt in the Montreal area where the firm of Progress Brand Ltd., has announced it has bought the Canadian rights to designs by Marc Bohan of Christian Dior, the Paris fashion house.

"We now are trying to imitate European styles for the Canadian public," said Nelson Weingarten, sales manager for Progress Brand.

Meanwhile the firm has switched most of its jacket production to double-breasted styles for fall. Accounting for less than a third of its output last year, double-breasted lines will take up more than half the production.

After a period of browns, greens and golds, the company this year has switched predominantly to grey with a variety of stripes.

In Toronto, spokesmen for Eaton's of Canada Ltd. and Robert Simpson Co. Ltd. are predicting the fashion-conscious man will be buying: pants, flared or straight; coats and jackets longer; shoes with a boot look; wide ties and lapels, and some changes in color preferences.

STILL HAVE OPTION

Doug Steele, general manager of merchandising for Simpson's, said coats will have a military influence with a Napoleonic collar and some shape.

Coats just below the knee will become the normal length, he said.

The average business suit will have a slight flare and the customer will have the option of cuffs or no cuffs.

In casual slacks, men will definitely wear flare and color. The casual slacks will frequently be accented with a broad belt, he said.

H. A. Daniels, men's clothing buyer at Eaton's in Toronto, said the blazer suit will "continue to command a lot of attention this fall."

Prime Minister Trudeau is expected to continue a pace-setting influence in Ottawa, where one prominent buyer said he's waiting to see what the prime minister chooses in an overcoat before committing himself to a style.

A buyer for the Hudson's Bay Co. said its northern stores will be carrying the current fashions in the larger centres such as Yellowknife, N.W.T., and Whitehorse, Y.T. Yellowknife is also becoming more fashion-conscious, he said.

In Vancouver, double-breasted suits are in and many of the coats have side vents. Stripes, often wide and in several colors, are also expected to be widely accepted. Large checks will also be popular, according to fashion experts.

We've Come A Long Way Says Nova Scotia Grits' Chief

HALIFAX (CP) — "Now we're number one, now we're number one," chanted jubilant party workers. . . and party stalwarts as Nova Scotia Liberal Leader Gerald Regan arrived at a victory celebration late Tuesday after his party had snatched a narrow Nova Scotia election victory from the Progressive Conservatives.

Mr. Regan, accompanied by his wife and campaign advisers, emerged from a black limousine outside a downtown hotel to a chorus of chants and hand-shaking from a land-office business.

Inside, pandemonium reigned as the party leader was escorted through the lobby into a jammed reception hall where a bar was doing a land-office business.

"Is somebody getting married?" asked a bewildered hotel guest as she was swept up in the revelry.

For Mr. Regan, his position still uncertain after a stunning comeback which saw his party elect 23 members to 21 for the PCs and two for the New Democratic Party, it was the culmination of a driving campaign which many predicted would determine his political fate. His party held only five of the 46 seats in the last house.

There were indications that he was drawing a parallel with the narrow defeat of the St. Laurent government by the Conservatives under John Diefenbaker in 1957 and the subsequent change of government in Ottawa.

'CAME A LONG WAY'

"We came a long way today—from the bottom to the top," Mr. Regan said to workers in his Halifax Needham constituency. Later, while driving to the hotel, he confided that he had predicted 18 seats for his party the night before the election.

He strayed away from questions on what position his party would take, pointing to two ridings where recounts were indicated. He was waiting for a "clarifying statement from the premier."

He conceded that "if we are called on to form a government we can form one with 23 members—if we are called on." A fall session of the legislature would then be called "to deal with the priorities in our platform."

Mr. Regan felt the 60,000 new voters on the rolls as a result of the lowering of the voting age to 19 by the legislature last spring went heavily in his favor in the Halifax-Dartmouth metropolitan area, where Liberals won nine out of 10 seats from the PCs.

BIBLE BRIEF

"For ever, O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven." Psalm 119:89.

The truly wise will have a great regard for the Word of God. "My word shall not return unto me void."

Throughout the campaign Mr. Regan met with university students on campuses reiterating that the province was facing its "most crucial decade of development."

For the 41-year-old labor lawyer from Windsor, N.S., it was his second election as Liberal leader. The Liberals lost power to the Conservatives under Robert Stanfield in 1956 after 23 years in office.

KNOWN AS GABBY

A sportscastrer during his student years at Dalhousie Law School, he acquired the nickname Gabby.

His political career began with a 1956 attempt to gain a seat in the Nova Scotia legislature. Running in Hants West he was defeated by 105 votes. In a second attempt he lost by 210 votes.

Three years later Mr. Regan won his first electoral contest—gaining a Halifax seat in the House of Commons in the 1963 election.

After two years in Ottawa he returned to Nova Scotia to lead the provincial Liberal party. He guided the members from the gallery until 1967 when he won a seat in the provincial house.

As Mr. Regan, accompanied by three of his five children, was driven to his constituency headquarters late Tuesday, he credited his wife's vigorous campaigning in his home riding for ensuring the healthy 1,628 majority.

Carole, a slender brunette, is no stranger to politics. Her father, John Harrison, was the Liberal member of Parliament for Meadow Lake, Sask., from 1919 to 1958.

NEWS ANALYSIS

Nixon In Fall At His Best

By PHILIP DEANE Foreign Affairs Analyst

Mr. Nixon is doing his presidential best to help his party score big gains in the autumn. "Presidential best" means that he must try to help his party win but must not put his own prestige as a national leader too much on the line, so that if the Republicans do not win, he is not seriously damaged.

Thus, a trip to Europe, talks with the Pope to please the Catholics, talks with Tito to demonstrate the Nixonian anti-communism is flexible, a visit to Ireland to court the considerable Irish vote, a visit to Franco to please the right wing which likes dictators—all these moves are sound presidential politics. They all fitted into the context of anxiety over the Middle East, a context in which Mr. Nixon could associate himself with the underlining of U.S. military strength in an area of growing Soviet influence.

Within this context, Mr. Nixon's secretary of defence could extend added recognition to the Greek dictators, affirming that they are totally committed to NATO, an important U.S. consideration, in view of possible trouble in the Middle East. Mr. Nixon's association with Franco can be explained to aging American liberals, at least, as a necessity in view of the Russian threat to Israel in the Mediterranean—and aging American liberals are generally pro-Israeli.

There were also the more social aspects of the European visit, such as the encounter with Queen Elizabeth: Americans are extremely royalist, as regards England and a meeting between the president and her majesty is good for a great deal of publicity on national television and in the newspapers. The whole trip was carefully orchestrated, the itinerary well chosen. The crowds in Europe were friendly, all good, reassuring imagery for the electorate back home, creating a pleasant contrast with Lyndon Johnson who was clearly unpopular in Europe. This is the sort of imagery that subliminally associates the Republican president with things Americans like.

Meanwhile, Vice-President Agnew continues his attacks on the students, the press, the liberals in general and even critics of the Vietnam war, even critics who are members of the Republican party, such as Sen. Charles Goodell of New York—Mr. Agnew has called for Goodell's defeat. This pleases the South—even though it still dislikes the supreme court—it pleases veterans of former wars, older people. Mr. Agnew's attacks on war protesters are to be seen within the context of the announcement that withdrawals from Vietnam will be accelerated.

Even so, the results are not easy to predict because the economic slow-down and war-weariness affect Mr. Nixon's natural constituency: how big the effect of these factors is, we shall know in November.

Oct. 15, 1970 . . .

The Great Exhibition ended in London, England, 119 years ago today—in 1851—after 6,170,000 people had visited it in five months. One of the projects of Prince Albert, it was founded as the first big international exposition in the world, providing a model for modern world's fairs. A glass and cast-iron Crystal Palace was built to house displays and profits of $150,000 bought land in Kensington upon which many of England's great museums now stand.

Focal Point In Kidnap A Small Montreal Hotel

MONTREAL (CP) — Focal point for news of the dealing on which hang the fate of two kidnap hostages is a small hotel in a historic section of Montreal.

Robert Lemieux, a radical young lawyer, holds court with his separatist friends in the Nelson Hotel and meets press and broadcasters there to tell of the progress of negotiations aimed at releasing the kidnap victims.

The 29-year-old Mr. Lemieux, himself an avowed separatist, represents the terrorist Front de Liberation du Quebec in talks by which the provincial government seeks the release of the abducted British envoy James (Jasper) Cross and Quebec Labor Minister Pierre Laporte.

The violence-oriented FLQ issues frequent communiques about the hostages, repeating threats to assassinate them unless ransom demands are fulfilled.

Obviously the kidnapers in their hideouts are out of reach of reporters seeking amplification.

GOVERNMENT RETICENT
It's also hard to get more details from the provincial authorities. Government statements are terse because of the delicate nature of the negotiations.

But in the hotel's smoke-filled conference room, blazing with television lights, the fluently bilingual lawyer tells of the action in his dealings with lawyer Robert Demers, the government spokesman.

And he answers questions from reporters politely in both French and English.

The four-storey hotel, where the McGill Law School graduate has a $16-a-week room, is on the east side of Place Jacques Cartier, now aflame with banks of autumn flowers.

The flag-stoned square lies in what citizens call Old Montreal where ancient fortifications were demolished 153 years ago.

In contrast to the separatist gatherings in the hotel's little bar, the most prominent feature of the square is a column commemorating Britain's naval hero, Lord Nelson.

On four sides of the column's plinth are details of the sea lord's victories—all in English.

GATHER IN BAR
Wednesday, before his news conference with the latest details of the talks, Mr. Lemieux sat in the bar with fiery labor leader Michel Chartrand and other separatist cronies at a table covered with beer bottles and papers.

Half the people in the bar were reporters, drinking the time away as they waited for the action.

But many more were obviously separatists and some of them occasionally came to the table to speak to Mr. Lemieux.

The crowd also included a sprinkling of French-speaking Negroes wearing Black Power beards.

When it was time for the news conference, Mr. Lemieux picked up his papers and entered the adjoining room which quickly filled up with about 100 reporters.

REQUIRE CARDS
After a previous conference where punches were thrown between an English-speaking reporter and a bystander, press cards had to be produced Wednesday before one could enter the room.

Behind a bank of microphones, Mr. Lemieux launched into an account in French of the latest negotiating session. An overseas French-speaking reporter later commented that the lawyer's accent is "good, although he has a slight regional accent."

Then a reporter asked for a brief English summary of what had been said. In almost accentless English, Mr. Lemieux gave a one-minute repetition of what he had said in French, interrupted once by an angry cry of "en francais" from the back of the room.

Mr. Lemieux, who lives upstairs in the Nelson—newspaper pictures show the room lined with separatist posters, the bed unmade—is himself a study in contrast.

DRESSES WELL

Although he says he makes only $3,000 a year and that is "sort of an allowance" from the FLQ, he dresses as well as any up-and-coming young lawyer in Montreal's judicial district.

But his hair is almost down to his shoulder and his untrimmed moustache droops. Last week he told an interviewer:

"Lawyers appearing before the courts are expected to go there with dignity, decorum and good, quiet attire."

"That's why I dress like this. I have to be conservative for my clients."

"It's all a phoney facade."

Time Has Come To Fight, Says Roberts On Terror

TORONTO (CP) — Premier John Roberts of Ontario said Wednesday the Quebec terrorist situation has evolved into "total war" and the time has come "to stand and fight."

In an interview, the premier said the federal and Quebec governments must stop protecting the rights of the minorities at the expense of the majority—a situation that would be produced in any compromise with Montreal terrorists.

Mr. Roberts, a navy lieutenant during the Second World War, said he has the greatest respect for kidnap victims James Cross and Pierre Laporte, but "some of us have seen hundreds of men and thousands of men killed in war."

"There is no way that we can yield to these terrorist demands," he said. "It's the most difficult decision of all but there's no compromise."

"They will try the same thing again if they have any success this time."

Mr. Roberts predicted a general crackdown on dangerously militant dissidents in the wake of the Montreal kidnappings.

"The law is being broken all the time in these demonstrations... police are being hampered and turned into bad guys and that's not right."

Kindly Robber Returned $10

NEW YORK (AP) — A young gunman robbed a cab driver of $90 Tuesday night, then handed back $10 for "money to get by on." Cabbie John Riebel, 23, told police he handed over the $90 to his passenger who then asked: "How much money do you need to get by on?" "Oh, about $5 is all right," Riebel responded. "Here's $10," said the thief.

ANN LANDERS Courageous Girl Is In Excellent Company

Dead Ann Landers: I am only 20 and have decided that I dare not fall in love again. Here is my story and I am desperate for some advice.

My childhood sweetheart was the boy next door. I knew I would marry him from the day we enrolled in kindergarten. He was stricken at 15 with a mysterious malady and died a few days later. It took me two years to recover from his death. Finally I became interested in another young man—this time, the handsomest and sweetest boy in town. Our friendship grew into love and I felt so lucky to have found someone who could replace my childhood sweetheart.

Two weeks before high school graduation this boy was drowned in a surfing accident. I was so torn apart the doctor kept me under sedation for three days. I was not permitted to attend the funeral.

Eight months ago my cousin was shipped to Vietnam. He showed my picture to a buddy from South Carolina. His buddy wrote to me and sent me his picture. He looked very much like my childhood sweetheart. After several months of letter writing, he asked me to fly to Honolulu to meet him for R. and R. I did. We both realized it was more than just a paper romance. It was love. After a heavenly five days we said good-bye. He promised to send an engagement ring within two weeks. The ring arrived—a beautiful diamond—on July 21. Five days later I received word that he was killed in action.

Why do these terrible things always happen to me? I am afraid to fall in love again. I seem to jinx every man whose life touches mine. Please help me make some sense out of this. I am—Losing My Grip With Reality

Dear Friend: You've had more grief in your first 20 years than most people experience in a lifetime. I can provide no answers, but I can tell you this: You have proven to yourself that you can live through anything.

Apparently you possess an in-

Day Care Service Is Overlooked

OTTAWA (CP) — The thousands of working mothers with children under two years of age continue to increase, but their need for day care services has been virtually overlooked by practically all elements of North American society.

This is the contention of David Adams, a lecturer in the psychiatry department of McMaster University, Hamilton, in an article in Canadian Welfare, the magazine published by the Canadian Welfare Council.

Mr. Adams writes that although several provincial governments have begun to sponsor subsidized day care programs to help low-income and one-parent families, such programs are focused on children aged 3 to 5.

Children under 3 were not included for at least two reasons: "Society has been unwilling to recognize that mothers with infants do work and do require day care for their infants."

Picture Found Of Little Girl

Sometime ago a woman came into the Courier office looking for a picture of the little girl cutting the ribbon with Hon. Ralph Loffmark at the official opening of the Kelowna General Hospital. At the time the picture could not be found. The picture has now turned up but the name of the woman who wanted it is not known. A call to the newsroom and the Courier would be glad to have the picture and woman united.

HITHER and YON

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hambleton spent the Thanksgiving weekend at their cabin on Sheridan Lake. They had as their guests Dr. and Mrs. Murray Newman. Dr. Newman is the director of the Vancouver Public Aquarium and was recently in the Okanagan giving a series of talks on his expedition to Baffin Island to capture narwhals for the aquarium.

Guests for the Thanksgiving weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Trembley, Kelowna, were Clarence McLean and Paulie Dorofay of Port Alberni. Miss Dorofay is Mrs. Trembley's sister.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Makoway of Wardlaw Avenue for the Thanksgiving weekend were Mr. and Mrs. William Werenchuk and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Yercha, all of North Surrey.

A surprise house warming was given Mr. and Mrs. John Reich of Wardlaw Avenue, Friday by friends in the neighborhood. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Nick Makoway, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Nise, Mr. and Mrs. William Werenchuk, Grace, Mildred and Ruth Euma and H. L. Trembley.

Mr. and Mrs. John Russell of Shadow Bay had as her guest during the weekend her family, Fraser Russell of Vancouver and Mr. and Mrs. Brian Russell of Terrace.

Visitors for the Thanksgiving weekend at the home of Col. and Mrs. D. C. MacDonald, Collett Road, was their son Tom of Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bull, Fuller Road, spent the weekend in Spokane.

Joan McClure, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McClure of Eldorado Road and Nan Baxter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Baxter, Crichton Road, members of the UBC Canoe Club, have recently completed a two-day canoe trip from North Fort to Kamloops, a distance of 60 miles.

Parents Are Also Responsible For Child's Safety With Toys

OTTAWA (CP) — The responsibility for the protection of children lies with parents as well as toy designers, manufacturers and legislators, Mrs. A. B. R. Lawrence, president of the Canadian Toy Testing Council, says.

In an article written for Canadian Consumer, a magazine published by the Consumers Association of Canada, she says that almost any toy can be unsafe if it is misused or given to the wrong child.

"Parents must anticipate the accidents that can occur, particularly in a family where there is a wide age span, and teach older children to keep many of their toys out of the reach of younger ones."

"This is true not only of obviously dangerous toys such as chemistry sets and dart games but of many seemingly harmless toys. A marble, for instance, can mean hours of play to a nine-year-old boy and death to a baby."

"In addition, an intelligent assessment of the possible misuse of a toy is in order. For example, a pull toy is an excellent one for a toddler but should never accompany him into a play pen or crib where the cord could get caught around his neck and strangle him."

Engagements Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Garbers, Westbank, are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter, Christa Ann to Robert Mitchel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchel of Squamish. The wedding will take place on Nov. 28 in the Westbank United Church.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blaskovits of South Kelowna, are pleased to announce the engagement of their second daughter, Gail Ruth, to Mr. Norman Paul Bazeley, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bazeley of Vancouver. The wedding date will be announced later.

Buckaroos Drop Fourth North Could Drop More

By LORNE WHITE
(Courier Sports Editor)

KAMLOOPS — The Kelowna Buckaroos of the B.C. Junior Hockey League are the only club in B.C. without at least one point to its credit thus far this season.

Wednesday the Bucks, now with a 0-4 record, dropped a humiliating 6-1 decision to the Kamloops Rockets in Kamloops, while the newest entry into the loop, the Chilliwack Bruins, managed a 6-4 tie with the New Westminster Royals to gain their first point as a junior A club.

The cellar-dwelling Kelowna squad has allowed a total of 26 goals in their first four encounters, while collecting only nine; six of those in an 8-6 league opener loss in Vernon.

The same old script held up for Wednesday's encounter, which has been used for all their previous defeats, and the story ended the same.

Defence on the part of the forwards and the blueliners was to the point of being ridiculous, while this time a lack of skating and hustle was thrown in for added bewilderment.

LIKE OLD LADIES

"They played like a bunch of old ladies," as manager-coach Wayne North put it after the game; probably their worst of the young season.

"The Rockets beat us to the puck in every part of the rink," said a disturbed North.

They could have scored three or four more goals without any trouble at all.

The Bucks were fortunate to be down just one goal after the first period, that coming on a Rocket powerplay with defence-man Lyle Harpe getting the marker.

Kamloops hit quickly in the second frame, scoring three goals within five minutes, to take a convincing 4-0 lead, which they stretched one more before the frame ended.

The Rocket line of Jerry Holland, Wayne Blanchin, and Marty Kissel, by far the best on the ice Wednesday, accounted for three of the four Kamloops' markers in the period, with Blanchin scoring twice, Kissel once, and Holland assisting on all three.

SPOILED SHUTOUT

Russ Weichnik made it 6-0 midway through the final period while Kamloops' goaltender Sam Clegg had his bid for first shutout of the BCJHL season stymied at 19:15 of the frame, when Ron Andruff picked up a loose puck in front of the net and lifted it over the outstretched goalie for Kelowna's only goal.

The day of reckoning may be a lot closer than earlier thought, as North expressed his disgust in the performance of his youthful squad Wednesday. The rookie coach said that he is definitely in need of some new personnel and will be on the phone today, possibly to Saskatoon, the Buckaroos' affiliated club in the Western Canada Hockey League.

To add to the headaches, North will lose the services of stocky leftwinger Larry Pate-naude for an undetermined period of time due to a back injury picked up in the Kamloops encounter.

The Bucks are now down to just eight forwards, losing Larry Keating because of shoulder injury, and Charlie Huk who is out due to a release dispute with his former Regina club.

The Bucks get their fifth chance to break into the win column Friday when they play host to a revamped New Westminster Royal club at 8:30 p.m.

Friday's encounter will be kids night, with all children 12 and under admitted free if accompanied by a parent.

New Westminster salvaged the tie with three goals within seven minutes later in the third period. Chilliwack outshot the Royals 41 to 26.

Ed Johnstone spoiled the Broncos' shutout with Vernon's only goal.

Garry Donaldson and Harry Turk each scored twice for Penticton, which picked up its second win in three starts. Both Turk and Donaldson scored into an empty net late in the final period after Vernon pulled its goalie. Bob Nicholson and Dale Turner added the other Penticton goals.

On Friday, Penticton will meet Vancouver at Vancouver and New Westminster will be in Kelowna.

Elsewhere In BCJHL Action

Elsewhere in the BCJHL action, Chilliwack Bruins and New Westminster Royals literally fought to a 6-6 tie on New Westminster ice in one of three British Columbia Junior Hockey League games Wednesday, playing a rough game before 350 fans.

In the other game, Penticton Broncos took an easy 6-1 win in Vernon.

New Westminster's Kevin Coates scored twice in the penalty-filled game which saw both teams playing two men down in the third period. In that frame, Royals collected five game misconducts and the Bruins got four.

Other New Westminster scorers were Dale Craig, Jim Dalzell, Lawrence Quechuk and John Campbell, while Chilliwack goals were scored by Bob Kennedy, Larry Davis, Dennis Anderson, Ken Krehbiel, Dale Berg and Ed Lavigne.

Chilliwack, which joined the league this year, dominated the game from the latter stages of the first period until early in the third, collecting all its goals in that time.

Kelowna Hydroplane Driver May Get Booster From USN

By RON ALLERTON

The United States Navy could help a Kelowna man set a world record.

The Kelowna man is limited hydroplane driver Ron Derrickson, seeking one and possibly two world records with his 145 cubic inch War Canoe '69.

U.S. Navy unofficial participation will come this Sunday near Los Angeles, from Cmdr. Glen Brewer, a submarine commander.

The arrangements were made in San Diego Sunday, after Derrickson finished second over-all and picked up another 300 points in his charge to the world championship.

Derrickson finished second in both heats, behind Allan Ford of Concord, Calif.

The 300 points ran Derrickson's season total to 11,138 and put him less than 100 points from one world standard and less than 400 from another.

The American Power Boat Association world mark for any inboard limited class is 11,228, set four years ago by a 226 cubic inch boat out of Washington, D.C. Derrickson needs only 90 points to tie this record.

The world record for any APBA class, inboard, or outboard, is 11,450, and the speedy Kelowna water jockey needs only 322 points to tie this mark.

Cmdr. Brewer, who holds the world speed record for the 150 cubic inch class, will drive the War Canoe Sunday in an event near Los Angeles. Under APBA rules points go to the boat, no matter who is driving.

A finish anywhere in the top five will give Derrickson the limited inboard title and first place over-all would give him the world championship for any APBA class.

Points are awarded on a 400, 300, 225, 169, 129 basis for the first five places.

Derrickson's drive to the title isn't going to be easy. During the past week he received some bad news and a lack of funds is hurting.

A two-day event planned for Harrison in the Fraser Valley, which could have added 800 points to the total, was cancelled, leaving only the final California race and one in Mexico.

Derrickson left his boat in California after the Sunday race, because a lack of money prevented him from staying over for a week.

A group of Kelowna businessmen donated $250 to make the California trip possible and Derrickson had only $3 left when he arrived home from San Diego.

If he can scrape up enough money he hopes to drive to California next week, pick up his boat and head for the last race in Mexico.

Otherwise he'll have to hope Cmdr. Brewer can operate a 145 on top of the water as well as he can handle a submarine below the waves. If he can't afford to go south for the Mexico race Derrickson will have to try to sell the boat in California.

Dizzy Dean Claims Libel

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Former baseball great Jerome (Dizzy) Dean filed a $14 million libel suit Wednesday against Phoenix Newspapers Inc., publishers of the Arizona Republic and the Phoenix Gazette.

Dean asserted that he was libelled by a banner headline in the final edition of the Feb. 28 afternoon Gazette. The story concerned Dean being named by a Detroit grand jury as a co-conspirator in a gambling ring. He was not charged or named as a defendant in the case.

Als Say Thanks For Passander

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes can thank second-string quarterback Tony Passander today for insuring the club its first Eastern Football Conference playoff berth since 1966.

With the Alouettes trailing British Columbia Lions 27-8 in the fourth quarter Wednesday night, coach Sam Etcheverry sent Passander into the game in an attempt to head off disaster. The Alouettes won 28-27.

Before Passander took over, they appeared unable to do anything to change the trend of the Canadian Football League interlocking game. Many of the 18,077 fans were leaving.

But Passander upset the works. He scored two touchdowns himself, the second on a third down, nine-yard run into the corner with 90 seconds left to play. The first came six minutes earlier on an eight-yard dash.

Sandwiched between his two majors, Passander threw a nine-yard strike to flanker

Terry Evanshen on a third-and-seven situation for another touchdown.

Dennis Duncan scored the other Montreal touchdown in the first quarter, while George Spraggate contributed three conversions and a single point on a wide field goal attempt in the second quarter.

The victory gave the Als 14 points, two more than Hamilton Tiger-Cats and Toronto Argonauts, while Ottawa Rough Riders trail the EFC with six. No matter how well the Riders do for their remaining three games they can not dislodge the Als from the playoffs.

Etcheverry was left almost numb by the turn of events, after he had watched the Lions roar with two touchdowns by Jim Young, another by Jim Evanshen, along with three conversions and two field goals by Ted Gerela.

"I can't even think," Etcheverry said following the game. "That was something else—it was hard to take."

He's Coming Along Very Well

The Montreal coach said he will start Passander against the Argos in Toronto Sunday instead of Sonny Wade. Passander succeeded Wade Wednesday night.

"I'm very definitely going to start Tony," Etcheverry, who is looking for his third victory against the Argos this season, said. "He's coming along very well and he knows how to move the ball."

Passander said that after his first touchdown, still trailing 27-15 with 7:47 left on the clock, he realized the Als needed a break.

The break came in the form of a dropped snap by Ken Phillips of the Lions on a punt situation. Phillips wound up on the Lions' 12-yard line and the Als took over.

That set the scene for Passander's third-down gamble to Evanshen which paid off.

The Lions now trail Saskatchewan Roughriders, who lead the WFC with 22 points, by 12 and Calgary Stampeders and Edmonton Eskimos by four. All four teams have three games left to play.

The nine points he counted in defeat allowed Gerela to take over first place in the WFC scoring race with 99 points, five more than Jack Abendschan of Saskatchewan.

The Als put together a total offence of 377 yards compared to 339 for the visitors. Montreal had 24 first downs to 19 for the losers.

Paduano Keeps Guard Up For $100,000 A Year

TORONTO (CP) — Donato Paduano, a one-time $1-a-day bakery employee, expects to make more than $100,000 this year—and he expects to earn at least $17,500 tonight.

That's what the Italian-born Canadian welterweight title holder will make for meeting Colin Fraser of Toronto in a 10-round non-title match at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Now fighting out of Montreal, Paduano has earned more than 60 per cent of his goal and if pre-fight sales are any indication, he may pick up more than $17,500.

His fight contracts calls for $17,500 or 20 per cent of the gross, whichever is greater. Pre-bout sales to Wednesday were more than $20,000.

"We're expecting between 12,000 and 14,000 people," said co-promoter Gus McLellan. "... I heard they can get 17,500 in the Gardens for boxing."

Fraser will pick up $5,000 or 12½ per cent of the gross.

HAS WEIGHT TROUBLE

But Paduano has been having trouble getting his weight down for the fight and, according to his contract with Fraser, will forfeit $1,000 if he weighs in at more than 152 pounds.

Wednesday evening, after a meal of carrots, lettuce and salmon salad, Paduano weighed 154½. But the contract allowed him one pound leeway.

"We may have to take advantage of the 153," manager Roger Larivee said. "He loves food."

Fraser, born in Bathurst, N.B., has no weight problem. He'll weigh in today at about 147 pounds, about six pounds heavier than he usually carries into the ring.

WON'T SLOW HIM

Since he's hardly a gazelle in the ring, it won't slow him down much. A puncher, he'll anchor himself and let Paduano do the sprinting and sliding.

Joey Durelle, the 32-year-old Montreal veteran who lost the title to Paduano, hasn't made up his mind who will win the fight.

"I don't know who will win," Durelle said. "They are both very good friends..."

"Paduano is a good boxer and fast. But Fraser is a harder puncher and he's much better inside. I know, because he is better inside than me."

"I'm a veteran and I can't take them like I used to."

Horse Racers In Vancouver Enjoy Biggest Day Ever

VANCOUVER (CP) — The biggest season in Vancouver's horse-racing history came to a close Wednesday night as 7,201 fans watched a 10-race program including the longest race of the season, the $3,500 Au Revoir.

The 2½-mile race was won by Calgary gelding Dark Numbers after a fine front-running rating job by jockey Frank Barrobay. The winner, owned by Jack Kellner of Calgary, was in the clear at the finish with Sailor Sue second and On The Go third.

Dark Numbers' time on the good track was 3:48 4-5 and the winner paid $4, $2.70 and $2.30.

One of the season's stars, Touch O'Erin, took the sixth race for his seventh win of the season, the only horse to win seven during the meet.

The numerous strikes and market conditions, the increase was very satisfactory.

Horsemen this year got $1,919,075 compared with $1,769,897 in 1969.

The provincial government this year will receive $335,733 and the Pacific National Exhibition, home of the track, receives $231,888.

NHL ACTION

Goals Fast And Furious Except Near Giacomini

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Except where Ed Giacomini stood, the scoring was fast and furious in National Hockey League action Wednesday night. Giacomini, the veteran New York Rangers goalie, stood almost unmolested as Buffalo Sabres managed only 15 shots at him. He stopped all of them for the first shutout of the season and the Rangers won their first game 3-0.

But 10 or more goals were scored in each of three other games.

Chicago Black Hawks downed Vancouver Canucks 8-2, Boston Bruins whipped Los Angeles Kings 8-5 and Toronto Maple Leafs slammed St. Louis Blues 7-3.

An opening-night crowd of 15,932 in New York saw the Rangers pepper Buffalo goalie Roger Crozier with 42 shots. Rod Gilbert, Jean Ratelle and Dave Balon got the puck past him for the Rangers victory. They lost to St. Louis 3-1 in their first game Saturday.

FLEMING ON RAMPAGE

The rambunctious Reggie Fleming, a former Ranger now with the Sabres, tormented his old team-mates on several occasions. He knocked Balon unconscious for three minutes in the second period with a cross-check and later tangled with Giacomini behind the nets.

In Toronto, the Leafs took advantage of a loose Glenn Hall and a shaky Glenn Hall in goal to pour four goals in during the first period.

Asked why he pulled Hall out of goal after the first period, rookie Blues coach Al Arbour said:

"The defence wasn't playing in front of Glenn, so there wasn't any sense leaving him in."

"Here, I thought there might be change if we put Ernie Wakely in, but there wasn't." Arbour even refused to place any blame on referee Bruce Hood, with whom he argued in the second period over a group of penalties assessed against both clubs for a melee that broke out behind Jacques Plante in the Toronto nets.

"We just played a poor game, that's all there is to it," said Arbour.

ROOKIES SCORE

Rookies Garry Monahan and Bill MacMillan of the Leafs got their first NHL goals. Paul Henderson and Mike Walton scored in the first three minutes of play with Jim Harrison and Monahan providing the other goals in the first-period outburst.

Centre Red Berenson scored twice for the Blues, who were shutout 4-0 in the game. Another rookie, Dan Maloney of the Black Hawks, made his NHL scoring debut with two goals against Vancouver goalie George Gardiner.

The rookie left winger also picked up an assist with other goals coming from Bobby and Dennis Hull, Gerry Pinder, Bryan Campbell and Lou Angotti with two.

Murray Hall and Mike Corrigan scored for the Canucks.

ORIOLES BUBBLY HAD TO WAIT

BALTIMORE (AP) — Omar the wine-taster waited and waited and then, at the top of the eighth inning, started to haul the champagne to the Oriole dressing room for the World Series victory celebration.

"I had just started down the corridor when I heard this loud roar," said Omar Aparicio, Baltimore's man in charge of the champagne.

"I rushed into one of the offices where the television was on. They told me Lee May had just hit a three-run home run for the Reds.

"So I went back to the case. It was all iced and ready. We'll keep it on ice overnight. It should be really cold by Thursday."

The Reds won 6-5. Aparicio, 34, a former minor league from Maracaibo, Venezuela, and a cousin of Chicago White Sox Luis Aparicio, has been Baltimore's official wine man since 1966.

Omar said the World Series is a 10-case, 120-bottle event. "We used 10 cases in 1966 when we beat the Dodgers," he explained.

Omar, who wears an orange shirt and black tie for Oriole colors, says he loves his job but has one regret.

"During a celebration, about 40 per cent of the champagne is wasted by players pouring it over each other's heads."

"I dread to see so much of the wonderful stuff go to waste."

Next time you lift something, use your head.

When a doctor takes candid shots of your spine, it's because your back hurts. 5,562 people in B.C. were disabled by work-caused back injuries last year. And most of those injuries could have been avoided.

To prevent a pain in the back, learn to lift the correct way:
1. Bend your knees. 2. Get down, so your arms, legs and back can share the load.
3. Keep your back straight and lift slowly. And if it's too heavy, don't even try. Get help. Some back injuries are the result of arthritis, or other back disease. Other ailments are caused by spinal defects you were born with. They're likely to hurt you sooner or later. But if your back injury is caused by your job, the Workmen's Compensation Board can help you with the best of medical care and rehabilitation therapy. We can give you some candid advice, too: next time you lift something, save your back. Use your head.

Founding Father Of Israel Spends Time In Near Solitude

TEL AVIV (AP) — David Ben-Gurion will be 84 Friday. The diminutive statesman who helped found Israel and was its premier for years lives in near solitude in the Negev Desert.

He has submerged himself in the past, compiling his memoirs, editing his letters and writing a history of Israel.

He takes a three-mile walk every day, writes manuscript in longhand, sometimes in 17-hour stints and sleeps seven hours a night. His only company is a plainclothes bodyguard and a chauffeur.

His wife died two years ago. Aides say his faculties are intact, his memory perfect and his grasp of modern issues remarkable.

While Israeli leaders claim the Soviet Union aims at destroying Israel, Ben-Gurion recalls: "If it hadn't been for the Soviet Union I don't know if we could have survived. They gave us arms, which we needed most in 1948."

He does not believe Russia wants to annihilate Israel, "but they aren't our friends any more."

He considers Moshe Dayan the best soldier Israel has produced, but criticizes the defence minister for refusing to invoke the death penalty against Palestinian Arab guerrillas.

He also disagrees with the government's decision to suspend United Nations Middle East talks because of alleged Egyptian violations of a ceasefire.

"I don't have much hope for these talks, but when there is a desire to talk to us, then talks should be conducted," he says.

Ben-Gurion feels Israel should withdraw from most of the Arab lands captured in 1967 if peace comes. Only Arab East Jerusalem and the Golan Heights of Syria should be retained, he adds.

He predicts—without saying why—that peace will come to the Middle East in 10 to 12 years.

"Many Arabs, particularly in Egypt, seem to be fed up with the present situation," he observes.

SHOP OPENS

Officially opened today, the Progress Specialty Men's Wear shop, 1461 Pandosy St., is waiting for the discerning man with exclusive haberdashery items in the suit, shirt, tie, belt and slack clothing range. Situated "just around the corner" from the new Toronto Dominion Bank, the new firm is ready to welcome customers Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., and Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. On hand to welcome his new clientele will be president and proprietor B.C. (Bernie) Kronenberg, above centre, a well-known Valley businessman and professional clothier. The new store will carry, apart from regular brand name items, exclusive Hallmark and Manhattan merchandise. (Courier photo)

SLASH-BURNING IN ISOLATED AREAS

Slash-burning is still continuing in isolated pockets of the Kelowna district, although the major portion occurred during September. Burning of refuse and discarded timber requires a burning permit available from the local forest service office or fire department of a particular fire improvement district. Cool, damp weather may precipitate early closure of the 1970 fire season, although the period officially ends at the end of October. Since the fire season began May 1, there have been 91 blazes in the Kelowna ranger district, surpassing the previous record of 60 in 1960 and 50 more than the same period in 1969. (Courier Photo)

School Trustees End Convention

VICTORIA — For the third successive year, a proposal to ask the provincial government to change its formula for financing education has been defeated at the British Columbia School Trustees Association convention.

The resolution, proposed by the Greater Victoria School Board, suggested that all money for education come out of the province's general revenue instead of collecting part of it, as is done now, from property owners through municipal assessments.

The motion said about 40 per cent of the cost of financing B.C.'s school system is raised by local taxes, "which neither reflects an equitable tax incidence nor the ability to pay."

"All taxes for education should be universal in application and based on income profiles," said the resolution, which went on to suggest that money for schools come from personal income taxes and the profits of business and industry.

Almost the whole Kelowna school board attended the convention, along with secretary-treasurer Fred Macklin and superintendent F. J. Orme.

Following are some resolutions adopted by trustees at the four-day convention which ended Wednesday.

● That school boards recognize the special education needs of Indian children, and the BCSTA supports education of the Indian and preservation of the different cultures in the public school system;

● The association ask the provincial government to exempt trustees from the five per cent provincial sales tax on their major utility accounts;

● That the provincial government be asked to pay the full cost of providing transportation to schools for physically handicapped children;

● That the provincial government be asked to change the fiscal year of school districts and teachers' salary year from the present Dec. 31-Jan 1 to June 30-July 1;

● That the association's executive press vigorously for implementation of a BCSTA report

$1,000 Raised By Walkathon

RUTLAND — Students of the Rutland Secondary School belonging to the various athletic organizations raised at least $1,000 by means of a walkathon, sponsored by the Athletic Coordinating Committee during the Thanksgiving Day weekend. Sixty boys and girls participated in the event which involved a 20 mile course. It started from the school grounds, headed south to the Kelowna bench into Ellison and back via Bulman Road and Highway 97 to Reid's Corner and then to the starting point.

The money raised will be used to buy uniforms for teams, to purchase equipment and pay for transportation to and from games.

CENTENNIAL 71

Hall Addition For Peachland

Peachland's Centennial 71 project was decided on at a recent meeting of the Centennial committee held in the Peachland Recreational Hall.

The committee again went through the suggestions submitted by residents of the community last summer and it was overwhelmingly in favor of building an addition to the hall.

This will be Peachland's centennial project providing the municipal council approves it. The addition would be built of cement blocks on the north side of the hall and will follow closely plans drawn by the Peachland Youth Club last spring. It also includes washrooms and kitchen facilities. It was voted to send the $15 prize money to the youth club for the winning suggestion. Chairman of the committee, Ted Beet, said that the people of the community should realize that this building is the first stage of a community complex for the future, which, with the increase in population, will be needed. He also expressed the hope that all organizations and individual residents would back any finance schemes needed by the committee.

An assortment of centennial calendars, medals and antenna flags were studied and various amounts of each were ordered for sale by the committee and businesses in the community.

A notice was read that a Centennial Hudson Bay Pack Brigade will be coming through the community next July but the committee felt their participation in this event should be studied more closely before any commitment is made.

Apple Sale Raises $140

RUTLAND — At least 27 fruit growers contributed apples to the Rutland-Ellison-Belgo Centennial Committee for their Apple Sale at the Shoppers Village on Saturday.

Chairman Ben Lee reports that all the apples were sold and the sum of $140.25 was the amount realized. He expressed the Centennial Committee's thanks to the contributing growers, and the patrons.

The committee's next project is the carnival, to be held at the Centennial Hall on Friday in the evenings.

There will be booths set up in the hall with various games and contests of skill, and luck, and many prizes will be given away. Refreshment booths will also be in operation. The Carnival will be run from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Oyama Rangers Are Kept Busy

OYAMA — Sore muscles and soaked clothes were the reward of the 1st Oyama Ranger Company when they went trail riding on the range east of Wood Lake on Sunday, Oct. 11.

Colleen Sproule, Candice Claridge, Sharon Sproule, Donna Dewar, Rose Pipke, Laurie Wangler and Jean Elliott returned home happy in spite of the weather and determined to go again as soon as possible.

Next Saturday the Rangers will take part in a training session at Camp Arbuckle and on Sunday they plan to view the salmon run.

There are very few things left for the men in this world.

This smooth dark rum is one of them.

Kalamalka WI Hears Report On Donations During 1970

OYAMA — The first meeting of the Kalamalka Women's Institute took place on Oct. 8, at the home of Mrs. Mary Tucker, with Mrs. N. Allingham in the chair.

The 13 members present discussed plans for a bake sale to be held in the Oyama Branch of the Vernon Fruit Packing House at noon on Oct. 22.

Donations for 1970 were made to the Crippled Children, Penies for Friendship, and to Northern Expansion of Women's Institute work in remote parts of B.C. Plans were made to compile the cookbook of recipes contributed by the members.

A letter was received advising that Dr. Hitchmanova would be unable to hold her annual November meeting in Vernon, but would be speaking in Kam'cons.

One of the main projects of the KWI has been sewing, knitting and quilt-making for the Unitarian Service Committee. In commemoration of its Silver Jubilee, the USC has honored six of the KWI members with the presentation of an anniversary scroll, for their outstanding contribution.

Two excellent reasons for buying the new Austin 1800 now:

1 Austin 1800's back seat can carry longer legs than any other sedan in its price range.

2 Austin 1800 has front wheel drive and radial ply tires. Wheels grip hard and pull ahead in the worst weather.

Plus 5 added attractions:

1 Large 1800 cc engine (same as MGB) gives 90 mph top speed with less engine wear.

2 Hydrostatic suspension keeps things smooth on every surface.

3 Power assisted front disc brakes stop—straight and safe.

4 Rack and pinion steering is sensitive to every demand.

5 Automatic transmission is optional, and very available.

If these reasons aren't enough, your dealer will be glad to give you more.

All Austins are backed by five British Leyland parts depots and 150 dealers coast to coast. See the dealer nearest you.

A REAL SOUND BARRIER

Sound-reflecting walls, such as this one at Frankfurt, West Germany, International Airport, have been built to cut down on noise from jet airliners like the plane taking off. The walls measure 50 feet high and are 2,300 feet long. Situated at the end of runway, they cut down on complaints from nearby residents as well.

Graham Receives Many Threats

BLACK MOUNTAIN, N.C. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham told a news conference Tuesday he has received threats against himself and his family in recent weeks. He has received such threats for years, he said, but the recent ones also menaced his family.

DEFENCE BUDGET

Nestled high in the Pyrenees between France and Spain, the tiny state of Andorra annually spends about $5 on its defence budget. The funds buy the blank ammunition fired by the 20-man police force to salute visiting dignitaries.

PRODUCTION UP

EDMONTON (CP) — High sulphur prices resulted in increased production from natural gas, but the price dropped from $33.73 a long ton in January, 1969, to $4 in May, 1970, and now Alberta has a stockpile of more than three million tons, enough to supply export markets for more than two years.

HARD AT WORK

FANNY BAY, B.C. (CP) — Formation of a centennial committee in this Vancouver Island community brought to 300 the number of groups in British Columbia now engaged in planning year-long celebrations in 1971 to mark the 100th anniversary of the province's entry into Confederation.

Company Awarded For 'Clean-Up'

MONTREAL (CP) — The Canadian Institute on Pollution Control announced Wednesday it will give its 1970 award for anti-pollution achievement in industry to Corby Distilleries Ltd. Company effort ended pollution of the Moira River at Corbyville, Ont.

Reactions Quiet In Asia Of Canada's China Policy

By REUTER
Asian governments reacted quietly today to the establishment of diplomatic relations between Canada and Communist China.

Hints of disappointment in some countries were matched by hints of approval in others.

Malaysian Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak, in a reaction typical of many countries, told Reuter the diplomatic move was a matter for the two countries.

The prime minister declined to comment further for the present but government sources in Kuala Lumpur said Canada's decision was in line with the current attitude of Malaysia which seeks the entry of China into the United Nations.

This attitude indicated Malaysia's readiness for relations with Peking provided China ended hostility towards Malaysia and was prepared to join the Soviet Union and the United States in guaranteeing Southeast Asian neutrality, the sources said.

POLICY SAME
In Tokyo, the foreign ministry said Japan's basic policy towards Peking would remain unchanged.

A ministry spokesman, expressing what he called an informal view, said the ministry reaffirmed its readiness to open government-level contacts with Peking to improve Sino-Soviet relations and help ease tensions in the Far East.

In Canberra, External Affairs Minister William McMahon told the House of Representatives that Australia would decide, in accordance with its own interests, whether to establish diplomatic relations with China.

"Of course, we would like Red China to be in the United Nations, providing it only accepted the declaration of human rights and abided by it," he added.

China also would have to renounce the use of force in attempting to ensure its political objectives, he said.

WONT INTERFERE
In Phnom Penh, a Cambodian government spokesman commented: "It is an affair between only the two countries and Cambodia will never interfere in the affairs of other nations."

But some observers in Phnom Penh said Cambodia probably was disappointed that relations had been established. They noted that Canada was a member of the International Control Commission and that this diplomatic move might cause some Cambodians to doubt Canada's complete impartiality on the commission.

In Saigon, Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam of South Vietnam said he hopes Ottawa's move would not affect Canada's ICC position in Vietnam.

In Jakarta, Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik described the establishment of relations as logical, but did not elaborate further.

The new Canadian ambassador to Indonesia, William Thomas Delworth, said his country recognized China because "China is there."

ON THE PRAIRIES

Unionists Gathering

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP) — Union representatives from across Saskatchewan start a three-day meeting here today to discuss new ways to attack what they consider biased and discriminatory labor legislation.

The annual convention of the Saskatchewan Federation of Labor comes towards the end of what is considered to be one of the province's most turbulent years for labor-management relations.

MONEY OFFERED

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP) — Mayor Harry Weiner said Wednesday he is willing to contribute $2,000 of his own money towards the ransom asked for Quebec labor minister Pierre Laporte and British diplomat James Cross. He said he was confident there were enough Canadians willing to contribute $1,000 to raise the ransom of $500,000.

SIX REINSTATED

DAUPHIN, Man. (CP) — Six Manitoba highways department employees here have been reinstated, three with minor disciplinary action, following release Wednesday of findings of hearings into their dismissal, suspension or demotion. Original action was ordered in August by provincial transportation minister Joe Borowsky after an RCMP investigation into irregularities in the highways district.

VIOLENCE INCREASES

WINNIPEG (CP) — Increased violence on Winnipeg streets after dark has forced the police commission to abandon a policy of only one-man patrol cars in the evenings.

Van Doos Move In

MONTREAL (CP) — Officers of Quebec's Royal 22nd Regiment have moved into offices in the new east-end headquarters of Quebec Provincial Police here, it was learned Wednesday.

They moved into second-floor offices next door to the province-wide police communications network.

A Montreal police spokesman said all preparations have been made for calling the army into Montreal if the situation warrants it. Troops could arrive within three hours of being called.

The procedure would be for the Quebec government to ask Ottawa to order army units into the city.

Meanwhile, army officers denied that recent troop movements toward the Montreal area have anything to do with last week's two political kidnappings by the terrorist Front de Liberation du Quebec.

Tuesday night, helicopters carried 75 men of the Royal 22nd from Valcartier base near Quebec to Camp Bouchard at St. Therese, 20 miles north of Montreal.

Cmdr. Jean Bonneau, senior information officer for the defence department in the Quebec region, said the 75 were sent to join 98 men taking part in reconnaissance-training exercises at Camp Bouchard as part of Operation Nighthawk, a NORAD exercise.

"There is no connection between these exercises and the Cross-Laporte kidnapping," he said.

Six Passengers Die In Typhoon

MANILA (Reuter) — Six passengers were drowned when a motorboat capsized and sank in the southern Philippines Tuesday night as a typhoon swept through the area towards the South China Sea. Police said six other passengers are missing.

LOFFMARK AGREES

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — Health Minister Ralph Loffmark agreed Wednesday to work towards a 1973 completion date of a 135-bed addition to Prince George regional hospital. He told hospital officials they could build the new wing at the maximum cost of $5.44 million approved by electors in the district in March.

China's Nuclear Test Seen As Route Toward Missiles

China's latest nuclear test was seen in Hong Kong today as part of a series of experiments to reduce the size and weight of its atomic weaponry to missile warhead proportions. China, Russia and the United States set off nuclear blasts on the same day, apparently for the first time, unleashing force equivalent to more than nine million tons of TNT. The Atomic Energy Commission in Washington announced China had resumed nuclear testing Wednesday with a three-million-ton atmospheric blast. That followed what apparently was the largest Soviet underground nuclear explosion yet and the most potent subterranean blast ever triggered by any nation.

T. C. Douglas, New Democrat leader, first entered the Commons 35 years ago Wednesday, and Speaker Lucien Lamoureux noted the anniversary by complimenting the NDP leader on "a survival rate seldom seen in our history." The event occurred on Survival Day in Ottawa.

In Prince Albert, Sask., RCMP are now considering sending men on foot into thick bush south of here in search of a 40-year-old farmer-bushman wanted in connection with the fatal shooting of two RCMP officers. "We will seriously review . . . the matter of moving searchers into the thick bush where planes cannot see and armed personnel carriers cannot go," S. Sgt. W. H. Preston said Wednesday.

Bodyguards literally dogged the footsteps of External Affairs Minister Mitchell Sharp

T. C. DOUGLAS . . . long survival

when he visited the United Nations and New York Tuesday and Wednesday. Because of the Quebec kidnappings, Sharp was constantly accompanied by two U.S. secret service agents and one RCMP officer during his entire visit here.

A plainclothes policeman was assigned to protect Premier W. A. C. Bennett Wednesday in Victoria, following threats by the Front de Liberation du Quebec to extend its activities outside Quebec and the theft of weapons from a North Vancouver armory. Police were also reported considering extending the protection to other British Columbia cabinet ministers.

The Commons rejected Wednesday a motion calling for the restoration of capital punishment for murder and acts of terrorism threatening human lives. The motion was proposed by Clifford Downey (PC—Battle River) who said that the law must not be mocked. It was mocked, he said, when it lacked strength.

Black revolutionary Angela Davis was held Wednesday in New York in lieu of $25,000 bail on charges of fleeing California to avoid a warrant for kidnap and murder. Methods for returning her to California to answer charges connected with a bloody courthouse fight in which four persons died were still under consideration.

Harvard University's Centre for International Affairs in Cambridge, Mass., was bombed early Wednesday and a women's radical group claimed credit for the attack, saying it was dedicated to Angela Davis. Miss Davis, sought since August on murder and kidnap charges, was arrested in New York Tuesday night—several hours before the Harvard bombing.

An autopsy was to be held today in London, Ont., on a Toronto dentist who was found dead in a hotel with a note that led police to his dead wife. Dr. Harry Horsley, 50, was found Tuesday with this note beside his body: "My Joe is gone. She is at home. There is nothing left for me. I can't say I gave the world anything, but anything left over should go to Mrs. Bernice Holbrook of Calgary." Police found the body of his wife in his Toronto apartment.

Secretary of State Gerard Pelletier told a Manitoba conference on ethnic and cultural policy in Winnipeg Tuesday that the federal government rejects any idea that Canada should be a melting pot for the assimilation of ethnic cultures.

Postal workers have voted 89 per cent in favor of their new contract with the government, union officials announced Wednesday in Ottawa. Results of the national ratification vote, which began last week and continued until Tuesday, appeared to come as a surprise to William Houle, president of the Canadian Union of Postal Workers.

The Supreme Court of Canada will be asked in Ottawa Monday to determine whether the Quebec egg marketing board is acting within its powers in controlling the import of eggs into the province. By controlling the flow of eggs from other provinces, the board has started a trade war among the provinces. Ontario, British Columbia and other provinces struck back by passing legislation aimed at controlling entry of Quebec chickens. Attorney General A. H. Mackling of Manitoba, who is to argue his province's case Monday, says the Quebec action is costing Manitoba farmers about $10 million a year.

Joseph T. Thorson, the former president of the Exchequer Court, says in Ottawa passage of the Official Languages Act "is an unwarranted attempt to change the basic character of Canada." The 81-year-old jurist has started an action in the Supreme Court of Ontario asking it to find that Parliament did not have the power to pass the act.

Federal System Of Grants Attacked By B.C. Minister

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C. (CP)—Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell lashed out Tuesday at what he claimed were inequalities and "special deals" in the federal system of grants to the provinces.

In a speech before more than 100 members of the Fort George Social Credit Association here, Mr. Campbell accused the federal government of initiating resource development and investment policies at the expense of British Columbia.

"Your government," he said, "can no longer accept the responsibility that there will be special deals for some parts of the nation and not for other parts."

Mr. Campbell said the money for important services in developing communities in B.C. such as Mackenzie had been raised by the people of the community, while the federal government spent millions of dollars in provinces which he said had "deliberately" diminished their incomes and returns from investments in order to qualify for that money.

Mr. Campbell also announced that Rehabilitation Minister P. A. Gagliardi will disclose a "new approach" to welfare spending at a conference of provincial welfare ministers in November.

"I can't give you any details except to say it will be quite different from the Canada Assistance Plan."

WINNIPEG TRIAL

Man Who Slew Detective Sentenced To Be Hanged

WINNIPEG (CP)—Thomas Mason Shand, a 31-year-old Winnipeg man, became the second person in less than a year to be sentenced in Manitoba to be hanged. He was found guilty Wednesday of capital murder in the June 27 death of a Winnipeg detective.

The jury deliberated less than three hours, including supper break, before returning the verdict and making no recommendation for clemency.

The death sentence, and automatic appeal of it, both are mandatory.

Execution was set for June 10, 1971.

The other man awaiting execution is Clifford Wickett Lurvey, 53, of Vancouver, who was convicted March 12 of shooting St. Boniface police constable Leonard Shakespear during a grocery store holdup. He was sentenced to be hanged Jan. 7. An appeal is pending.

Shand was charged in the death of Det. Ronald Houston, 38, who died of stab wounds received while trying to arrest a suspected peeping tom in central Winnipeg. The officer's partner, Det. John DeGroot, 28, was seriously wounded in the struggle.

There have been no executions in Canada since a revision of laws, retaining the death penalty only for murder of a policeman or prison guard on duty, went into effect Dec. 29, 1967, for a five-year trial period.

The last execution in Canada was Dec. 11, 1962.

Retail Prices Decrease

OTTAWA (CP)—Retail prices in Canada were marked down last month to a rate of $9.98 from $10 in July and August.

That was the measure of a decline reported Wednesday in the consumer price index—to 130.2 points in September from 130.5 in the summer months. It was 126.6 in September, 1969.

While not a spectacular barometer and not entirely unexpected with the normal harvest-time drop in food prices, the drop nevertheless prolongs a recent trend to more stability in retail costs after a long stretch of price inflation.

Figures published by Dominion Bureau of Statistics since March show price inflation has slowed to a gentle pace of two per cent a year after a gallop of five per cent or more through 1969 and into this spring.

The index measures changes in the prices of hundreds of goods and services whose prices in 1961 were given a rating of 100 points.

The measurement means in effect that $100 worth of food, clothing, shelter, transport and other goods and services in 1961 had risen in price to $126.60 in September, 1969, was up again to $130.50 this summer, then dropped to $130.20 last month.

A drop of 1.4 per cent in the food category offset increases in the prices of clothing, housing and recreation.
